I was diagnosed with Triple Negative breast cancer in late June 2012. Triple Negative is a very aggressive cancer but my doctors were more aggressive. The doctors and nurses were and still are very caring.

I learned about BCCR from my husband who retrieved their magazine from my doctor's office. He brought it home and at first I wanted no part of the magazine. Slowly I started leafing through the pages and decided I needed to journey to University Ave. I went down one afternoon and parked across the street and stared at the building. People were coming and going then I decided "what the hell" and went in. I was greeted by a pleasant woman who introduced herself as Holly Anderson. We went into her room and talked. I left pleasantly surprised.

As they say, "the rest is history!" I want to thank you all for being there for everyone. God bless, keep on truckin'.
